

2Teck are a leading mechanical and electrical engineering company based on the south coast of the UK.

Case Study

2Teck: Online Learning and LMS

The Challenge

2Teck approached Learner Bubble to assist them with their learning needs, which were to ensure that its employees are up to date with the latest industry standards and regulations, as well as health and safety practices.

The company requires annual mandatory training for its staff across ten key areas, such as fire safety, manual handling, asbestos awareness, and electrical safety.

The company also needs a system that can easily deliver the training, automatically re-enrol users on an annual basis, and provide comprehensive reporting on the progress and completion of the training.

The Solution

The company decided to use our learning platform and entire course library to deliver the training to its staff as they felt this was the most cost-effective solution for their needs. They even established that our online solution was cheaper than the price of delivering just one training course in the classroom environment when the cost of losing employees from the workday was taken into account.

The learning platform provided by Learner Bubble is a cloud-based system that allows users to access the courses anytime and anywhere, using any device, which was particularly useful for 2Teck employees, who are often on site and require access through mobile devices because of this. Indeed, some employees were excited to be able to complete their learning while travelling, which was otherwise considered wasted time.

Our course library contains over 150 courses covering various topics and industries, including the ten key areas that the company needs. Our learning platform also has features such as automated enrolment, reminders, certificates, and reporting that make it easy for the company to manage the training process and ensure they are prepared for audits.

The Results

Six weeks after using our learning platform and course library, the company achieved an 80% completion rate for the training, with a clear picture of where they are regarding completion.

The company also received positive feedback from its staff, who found the courses engaging, informative, and relevant to their work.

The company is confident that its staff are well-trained and compliant with the industry standards and regulations. The company plans to continue using our learning platform and course library for its future training needs.

The consensus from the client was that this was a very successful implementation...

“The assistance provided by Learner Bubble and their suite of e-learning courses has been invaluable to both our health & safety team, and the company as a whole. The learning platform and course library help to ensure our team are well-trained and compliant. Having used the courses myself, I find them to be engaging, informative and relevant.

A key benefit is the learning platform, which is easy to use and provides us with detailed reporting. I highly recommend Learner Bubble and the solutions that they provide.”

– James Wedge, CEO